

University of Hyderabad conducts camp for start-ups in city

Jun 9, 2017, 09.48 PM IST

The School of Life Sciences, University of Hyderabad in collaboration with the Singapore-based Govin Capital organised a Business Plan Boot Camp, inviting proposals from start-ups.

More than 60 participants from life sciences, engineering and information technology attended the event, which saw 12 cutting edge proposal being submitted for funding. The criteria for evaluating the proposals were novelty, technology, presentation, composition of team and process of utilisation of the fund, said UoH in a press release.

Anand Govindaluri, Founder and CEO of Govin Capital, Singapore and the Chief Mentor of the Business Plan Boot-Camp highlighted the importance of commercialisation in research institutes and shared different business models for start-ups to raise seed and venture funding.

"UoH has taken a lead in promoting Start-up India, Stand-up India entrepreneurial initiatives of government of India. We are pleased to be a knowledge partner of School of Life Sciences, UoH in this entrepreneurial endeavour", said Anand Govindaluri. Professor P Reddanna, Dean of School of Life Sciences, shared that this Boot- Camp marks a novel beginning of start-up entrepreneurship in UoH.